BUILDING CASE

Will Decide Whether Frame Building Can Be Erected on King Street

A case of considerable interest which will be heard Wednesday morning in the police court involves the erection of a frame building at the head of King street east of the union passenger railway station by James F. Thompson.

The skeleton of the building already has been erected and the work was stopped by Mayor Duncan who is opposed to the erection of any more frame buildings on King street. Mr. Thompson has obtained the services of Attorney F. G. Duvall to represent him.

When the case was called in court today, Police Justice Snow announced that he would not sit in the case and he later asked Judge Robinson Moncure to designate some one to act in his place and Magistrate A. B. Nicol was designated. City Engineer Dunn will be a witness.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 31.—It is doubtful if, during the most critical periods of the World War, Marshal Ferdinand Foch, generalissimo of the Allied armies ever had a busier day than that he put in in Washington on Saturday last as the guest of the nation. He could not have been more on the move if he had been chasing the armies of Germany over the battlefields of France. He was kept busy from early morning until late at night making the rounds of official calls. And he did not fail to pay his respects to former President Wilson whom he met while the latter was in France as head of the American delegation fixing up the terms of peace.

Wherever he went, the distinguished soldier of France was given ovation upon ovation, and the enthusiasm displayed was never excelled by that given the presence of a foreign visitor to the National Capital. Marshal Foch looked much younger than his pictures portrayed him. Although his eyes were deep set, they had a sparke to them that denoted the warrior that he is. He will never forget his reception in Washington.

Women will not attain legal equality in Louisiana or Alabama if the governors and legislatures of those states can prevent it. As a result of this opposition, organizations are already under way in these states to support the proposed Equal Rights amendment to the Constitution, according to word received today by the Woman's Party. No member of the Louisiana legislature could be found willing to introduce the Equal Rights Bill, and the Governor of Alabama, by refusing his recommendation, has blocked the consideration of the bill by the present session of the legislature of his state. A two-thirds vote is necessary to consider the measure without the given recommendation.

The accumulated stocks of real beer on hand at the various breweries throughout the country will shortly be turned over to retail druggists for sale as medicine. This is the dictum of the Treasury Department today and is a warning to R. A. Haynes, U. S., Prohibition Commissioner that no obstructive tactics will be tolerated in putting the beer regulations, recently promulgated by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in to effect. Secretary Mellon and Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair feel that tne law clearly gives physicians the right to prescribe malt liquors for medicinal purposes and that brewers who have stocks of the real stuff on hand should be permitted to dispose of them to retail druggists.

With the strike situation out of the way as an emergency, the President and his advisors are expected to give immediate attention to railroad funding legislation to start again the forward progress that was made by business and industry when the threatened strike gummed the wheels. The President believes that the passage of the funding bill would start an incipient industrial boom as it would mean iron and steel business, employment for many thousands and a general passing down the line to workers and business everywhere of the advantages to be derived from greater railroad business. The railroads are the greatest buyers of iron, steel, coal and construction materials.

A general revision of the transportation act is regarded by administration officials as desirable to meet any future crisis in the railroad situation. There is a movement under way in both the Senate and House Inter-State Commerce Committees for amendments to the act providing for a consolidation of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Railway Labor Board, to have these two divergent but interdependent functions of government brought into one, so that railroad rates and railroad wages could be reviewed together.

Xaverian School Notes

Hallowe'en was observed at the school on Friday in the nature of a luncheon and entertainment. Each class did remarkably well in elocution and song, conspicuous among the guests were Rev. Louis Smet, pastor of St. Mary's Church, and his assistants, Revs. Lawrence Kelly and Michael Malloy.

Rev. Wm. Kelly, school examiner for the diocese of Richmond, spent Thursday at the school.

Rev. Brother Giles, C. B., of Catholic University, spent the weekend with the faculty.

Dr. W. J. Richards, of Hartford, Conn., brother of the principal, spent Thursday at the school.

As the month of October is coming to a close, the principals and teachers at the school have only words of praise for the students. The report cards for the month will be issued on Friday. It is the wish of the faculty that the parents note the changes in their child's progress from month to month.

The faculty of the school take this occasion to thank the ladies and gentlemen who so generously donated furnishings and linens.

TRIPLE COLLISION

Two Automobiles And Two Electric Cars Figure in Wreck

Seven persons injured, two automobiles smashed, and one man arrested for driving while intoxicated, were the results of a triple collision, just north of the Highway bridge last night. One Alexandrian, Miss M. Henderson, of 106 Commerce street, was badly shaken up. The others injured are Mrs. John Mathias, Mrs. Charles Mundle, Mrs. Willie White, Edwin Mundie, Mary Mundie, and Maurice E. Weeks, all of Washington. Charles Moore, colored, was arrested and locked up on the charge of driving while intoxicated.

The accident occurred about ten o'clock last night, when a Ford car containing the Mundie party was struck by the car driven by Moore, and all the occupants of the Mundie party were taken to the Emergency Hospital. The Ford car was left standing partly across the track, and car No. 304 of the Washington-Virginia Railway, northbound, in charge of Conductor Russell Thompson and Motorman G. W. Jones, struck the Ford. While employees and bystanders were trying to remove the Ford from the track, car No. 314, from Falls Church, smashed into the rear of the Alexandria car, injuring Maurice E. Weeks and Miss Henderson, who were passengers. Neither were badly hurt, and the damage to the electric cars was slight.

CELEBRATION TONIGHT

Hallowe'en To Be Observed By Youngsters Who Will Masque

Unless rain interferes with their plans the younger population of the city tonight plans a Mardi Gras on the streets, and hundrds of revelers arrayed in fancy costumes will parade the streets following an annual Hallowe'en custom.

There will be ghosts and goblins aplenty and in additon many other new and novel costums will be seen. Many masquerade parties are planned for the evening and the youngsters have made elaborate plans for the celebration.

The Hallowe'en novelties seen this year in the stores are more profuse than ever before and the window decorations are prettier than in previous years.

LITTLE STORIES OF THE STREET By The Man About Town

She was blond, petit and pretty
With baby-blue eyes
And bobbed hair.
She tripped aboard the street car
At Twelfth and Penn
On her way
To the city of Alexandria
To see a friend
We suppose.
The conductor came along and asked
For twenty-nine cents
Street car fare.
She smiled and handed him a quarter
And went right on reading
While he explained
The new rules which say he must collect
An extra five cents
From folks
Who do not buy a ticket at the station
And that the Company
Would refund
The nickel if she would present
The piece of paper
At the Office.
She laid aside her book and smiled
And said
"You can keep that piece of paper
And cash it yourself
For a nickle
For I haven't time to bother with Trifles like that when I am busy."

Pigs is pigs. If you need a pig in your family run down to the City Market and look over the representatives of the porcine tribe offered for sale at bargain prices. They have them white spotted, black and red, all guaranteed to eat whenever called and well qualified to call when ready to eat, judging from the valiant grunts which greet the ears of the casual passerby.

The window dresser of a downtown store has spent a lot of time on his presentation of Hallowe'en novelties and the window attracts a lot of attention. This was paticularly true Saturday morning when the office cat invaded the window and started out to raise havoc with the decorations. Whether Sir Thomas spotted a mouse or whether he had been seized with the spirit of Hallowe'en deviltry accredited to his personal family is not clear, but, we will wager a goodly sum that his activities attracted as much attention as the novelties displayed in the window.

Ran into a captaon crank at the Richmond. It is queer how some people will insist on reading the script captions in a loud voice while you are intent on watching a good show. Possibly they imagine your lack of education makes it necessary, but in any case they are a pest.

Have you secured your hunting license for the coming season? A county license will set you back one American dollar, a state-wide permit to go after game. the small amount of three bones. Non residents may procure the permit necessary to hunt in Virginia for ten dollars. As the money is spent in proprogating game and fish, every sportsman should be willing to kick in with the requisite tax. Just drop into the office of the Clerk of Court down at the City Hall and have him write it out. Better do it now because the season on upland migratory game starts within a few weeks and you will want to get your share of the gunning.

We wonder whether there is a city ordinance against blocking the sidewalks? Some of our local merchants seem inclined to run their stores out of doors these days. Certainly it detracts from the appearance of the streets, and it cannot add to the desirability of the merchandise displayed. It is small town stuff and Alexandria no longer wears swaddling clothes.

The Old Dominion Boat Club is one of the progressive organizations of the town. While most boating clubs are satisfied with hibernation during the winter months this up-and-going bunch of hustlers is planning a series of smokers and entertainments which will add considerably to the gaiety of social season. They recently acquired new property on the water front and contemplate erecting a modern club house at an early date. Those interested in acquatic sports would do well to communicate with the Secretary, Mr. J. T. Preston, Chamber of Commerce who will be glad to outline the program for the coming year to prospective members.

ASK REDUCTION MORTGAGE TAX IN VIRGINIA

Executive Committee of Virginia Realtors Held Here

BANQUET FOLLOWS

First Meeting of This Committee Here—Large Number of Members Present.

A reduction of State mortgage tax from $1.10 per $100 to 50 cents flat, payable at the time the mortgage is recorded, for the tenure of the mortgage, was recommended at a meeting of the executive committee of the Virginia Real Estate Association, held Saturday afternoon in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. It was pointed out that this would make more money available for relief of the housing shortage. At the prevailng tax 6 per cent on mortgages yields the holder $4.90. It was urged in the report submitted that this results in money being taken out of the State for investment purposes to places where the interest yield is greater.

The associaton decided to spend $25,000 a year for the next five years advertising the State of Virginia.

Clement S. Ucker, vice president of the Southern Settlemnt and Development Board, gave an address on "Opportunities in Virginia." calling upon Virginans to awaken and co-operate for the good of the state.

The delegates were met by members of the Alexandria Real Estate Board when they arrived in Alexandria and later in the day shown the points of interest in the city.

Saturday night a banquet was held at the Hotel Rammel and during the evening speeches were made by a large number of the visitors and also by a number of local members.

REALTOR—The name is a pledge. For good service and fair dealing. All Realtors are Real Estate Brokers—but not all Real Estate Brokers are Realtors. Webster's International Dictionary defines Realtor.

"A Real Estate Broker who is a member of a local board having membership in the National Association of Real Estate Boards, an organization for the advancement of the intersts of Real Estate Brokers, and th protection of the public from unprincipled agents or brokers."

The National Association of Real Estate Boards has established certain principles for the fair and proper handling of real estate transactions. These principles are are the standard practice of the Realtor.

He respects his profession. He has ideals and a code of ethics to which he adheres in hs dealings with his clients.

This code makes for justice, honesty and fair dealing. It is for the protection of the public, for only by protecting the public can the real estate profession hope to be of service.

If you are buying, selling, exchanging, renting or leasing property consult a Realtor. You will find him a man worthy of your trust

The local members are John D. Normoyle, Lawrence Stabler, F. C. Godnow, Nelson Snyder, A. H. Agnew, Richard Ruffner and Graham and Ogden.

STATE NEWS

Orange—The funeral of Sheriff William C. Bond, who with Town Sergeant Julian Boyer, was killed by William Ware, alleged negro bootleggar, who was afterward burned to death in a barn as a result of Saturday night's tragedy ,was held here Wednesday, Throngs of people here for the Orange county fair, which opened yesterday, attended the services. Keene Brooking has been sheriff of Orange county, and F. E. Winn town sergeant of Orange, to succeed Sheriff Bond and Town Sergeant Boyer.

Freeling—Nightly the lanterns of hunters may be seen moving towards the depths of Cumberland Mountain, where "the 'possum and the 'coon"' may be found in numbers that would serve as a reminder of old times in the new more populous districts. The hunt being concluded, back at home when daylight drives away the darkness, it is usually to be seen that hunter and hound together have made good. But few people live beyond the foothills of the mountain, and the game has a wide range of practically unbroken forest.

Roanoke—Forty-five candidates representing all sections of southwest Virginia, and constituting a fall class are being shown through the various degrees of Masonry by the Roanoke co-ordinate bodies of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite Masons here. The activities which were started Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the class assembled at the Masonic Temple, will continue through Friday evening when a banquet will be served at the Temple, to which all Scottish Rite Masons are invited. The banquet will be served at 7.30 o'clock.

Newport News—L. G. Thom, city manager, took the stand yesterday that the superintendent of the city farm should have the right to whip prisoners on the farm to enforce discipline, whether he used that power or not. The prisoner whipped last week by city farm authorities was thrashed over a barrel under State law authority, he said.

Fredericksburg—The silk mill in this city closed down last night temporarily, but the superintendent stated that it may be for only a short period. The temporary suspension is understood to be due to lack of orders at the present time.

Staunton—Organization of the 80th reserve division is progressing satisfactorily, according to Major James H. Tierney, of Richmond, Adjutant, who was in the city today on military business. The war department has adopted the policy of forming reserve divisions throughout the country and reserve corps officers are being given permanent assignments to these divisions in which enlistments for emergency service are being accepted. Establishment of a battalion headquarters in Staunton is contemplated. The 80th is to be a Virginia division perpetuating the designation and falling heir to the record of the Camp Lee division of Old Dominion draft troops that won distinction in the world war.

Langled Field—The airship Roma, recently purchased by the United States from Italy, arrived at Langley Field in excellent condition in every respect the envelope which contains the gas coming through in exceptionally fine shape. The envelope is at present inflated with gas, and the keel, which runs along the entire length of the ship, is completely assembled, as well as the greater part of the six-power units. It is expected that this ship will be ready for its trial flight in this country by November 1, or shortly thereafter.

Sixth Troop of Pioneers Organized Yesterday

The sixth troop of Pioneers for Alexandria was organized at the Good Shepherd Chapel yesterday afternoon. Dennis Whittle, of the Seminary, is the leader.

It was a very enthusiastic bunch of youngsters that gathered for the organization and there is every indication that the troop will be a credit to the large number of Pioneers already organized in this city. Mr. Whittle has had a large experience in boy's worw and the troop is fortunate in securing usch a competent leader.

The troop is number six in the list but a name has not yet been selected by the boys. This will probably be done at the next meeting. Meetings will be held in the chapel parish hall and the boys will be eligible for the gmnasium class held at the Westminster Building each Monday evening at seven o'clock.

The Y. M. C. A., also announces two changes in the leadership of troops Nos. 4 and 5. Linwood Simpson is the new leader in charge of Alexandria Troop No. 4, while J. C. Gaines will have charge of Eagle Troop No. 5. The former troop is in connection with Trinity M. E. Sunday School and the latter with the First Baptist School.

Tonight at 8:30 o'clock there will be a masquerade party and dance at Odd Fellows' Hall under the auspicez of G. I. A., to B. of L. E. Music will be by Jordan's Orchestra.

MARSHAL FOCH AT MT. VERNON PAYS TRIBUTE

Places Wreath on Washington's Tomb in Name of France

CALLS ON PRESIDENT

Spends Day in Official Visiting. Is Cheered by large Crowds In Washingto.

Marshal Foch late Saturday peered through the portals of the past at Mount Vernon and what he saw there made him love and honor more than ever the memory of Washington.

"The simplicity and straightforwardness of the man, Washington," touched him. He told his company, after placing reverently upon Washington's tomb a rose wreath—tricolor entwined—that he had gained in a few minutes a new concept of the Father of his country.

His visit to the tomb came at the close of a day of hectic welcome, a welcome tuoched with true hospitality, and marked with applause, cheers and the frequent shouts of 'V'ive la France," Standing out on the broad lawns before the colonial mansion, Foch the warrior, gazed down upon the lakelike peacefulness of the Potomac, and commented:

"From behind, Mount Vernon might be any one of a thousand farms. But here, as I gaze down the river with its wonderful setting of gold and red autumn foliage, I have the sense of peace. It is a tranquil, lovely place to spend one's last days."

With the sentimentality of the true Frenchman, Foch was stirred almost to tears as he saw evidences of France's support to this republic, during the Revolution.

He had seen the relics of the great chieftain, the letters of Lafayette, the bust of Washington done in the latter's lifetime, had viewed the key to the French Bastile, had marvelled at the plainness and strict simplicity of the old house on the hill, and then commented:

"I have a new idea of the great Washington. His simplicity and straightforwardness are reflected in his home. Why, the old fireplace there might be the simple hearth of a cottage in my homeland, Brittany. Ah, I can love him the more after seeing here at first hand the simplicity and realness of the man."

From the mansion, Foch escorted by an admiring group of visitors, went to the tomb of Washington. Here too, was simplicity, and it deepened further the marshal's impressions.

An aged negro, bowed of back and sombre of countenance, respectfully took the marshal's cap as Foch entered the ironbarred gate, and, without word, placed his wreath upon the tomb. There was no speechmaking; a few words passed between Foch and his American aid, Gen. Connor, but Foch, pursuing the French cult of the dead, showed his respect and reverence with his poise rather than with words. His wreath was inscribed: "To the memory of George Washington."

This ceremony completed, Foch saw the rest of the estate and marvelled at things of the eighteenth century preserved there.

From Mount Vernon he returned to his hotel quarters, fatigued by the strenousness of a Washington welcome and rested until 8 o'clock when he went to the French Embassy as guest of honor at a dinner given by Ambassador Jusserand. Tomorrow he journeys to Kansas City for the American Legion convention.

Marshal Foch, earlier in the day, was received by President Harding, paid official visits to government officials, and called upon former President Wilson. The former President could not see the distinguished visitor, however, because of illness.

MUSIC IN THE SCHOOL

Music is one of the gifts of God to man. We are not sure that it is not His best and highest gift. It is primeval in its origin, universal in its practice. No race of savages so low in the human scale that does not vocalize its adoration of the Diety in sounds that obey some law of rhythm and harmony. No nation so advanced in civilization that does not yield to its spell in their religious ceremonies. Music is the purest expression of emotion. Feeling is deeper than thought, and for this reason music may be supreme among its sister arts of poetry, painting and sculpture.

From primitive music to modern music there is an infinite progression. From the folk-tales of Africa to a Homer or Shakespeare, there is the same measureless abysm that there is between a Voodoo chant and a Beethoven symphony. But, fortunately, the difference is only of degree and not of kind.

It is almost unthinkable that music should not be taught in the public schools of today. Its refining and ennobling influence can be supplied from no other source. An education in the great masters of music that have purified and enlightened a naughty world is as important as an education in the great masters of Thought.

Probably the people of Alexandria have not given this matter much attention. Else we would have had an instructor in music long ago. The School Board is responsive, or should be, to the wishes of the people. The superintendent is in favor of the idea and more than once has brought the matter to the notice of those public-spirited and intelligent gentlemen who have the welfare of our public schools at heart and in their charge. They are busy men, however, and probably look at the question only from the financial angle. We are sure that they want to do the very best they can for the city's schools, and if they saw a way to improve them, they would be only too glad to adopt it. We believe them all to be men of education, patriotism, and good intentions.

Believing this, we beg of them to examine into the situation and see if they cannot devise the ways and means to provide a teacher of music. We understand there are in the present teaching corps those, who, for a slight additional salary would willingly undertake the extra duties.

This matter is so important, and means so much to our children, that we hope it will not be neglected longer. Why can we not have a teacher of music at once, or at least by December? The parents would welcome it, the pupils would spend many a happy hour, the memory of which would last them through life, and the little money required could be spent to no better purpose. It would bring a thousand-fold return.

The only adverse arguments are sordid and selfish. Let us have music taught in our public schools, and let us begin now!

"There's a Blizzard on the Way"
SOME morning this winter your family will face that reality. Will you be ready for it? Don't forget the dangers and discomforts of last winter. Don't put off the selection of a new heating plant for your home too long. Don't go through another winter without the cozy comfort of "QUAKER" Heat.

Now is the best time to prepare your house for the damp, chill winds and the cold days that are sure to come. If you install a QUAKER FURNACE now, you'll not mind the time when "there's a blizzard on the way" because
"Quaker" Heat is Quicker Heat
QUAKER
"The Pipeless Furnace That's Built of Steel"
The Quaker Furnace is built of steel, which radiates heat three times as fast as cast iron. Yet the Quaker holds the heat longer because the firepot is lined with FIRE BRICK like the crucible of a blast furnace.
Quaker Heat is cleaner heat, too. The joints are riveted like a boiler. No cement to crack and crumble. Soot, ashes, dust and dirt positively cannot leak through. The hotter the furnace gets the tighter the joints become.
OTHER IMPORTANT FEATURES
The Quaker has an extra large water pan (with handy outside filler) which keeps the air moist and healthful. The firepot can't crack. The combustion chamber is extra large. The special hot blast saves fuel. Doors are ground EXACTLY to give perfect air-tight fit. Free catalog tells all about these and other Quaker improvements Send for it today.
Quaker Steel Pipeless Furnaces are easily installed in old or new homes. Only one register required. Made with 18, 22, 26, and 28 inch firepots. Delivered quickly from nearest wearhouse. Send for free catalog.

Making Extraordinary Mileage a Certainty—

Car Owners want more rubber on the tread where the wear is hardest; more gum between cord plies to perfect a resilient and powerful carcass. And they want a scientifically constructed Non Skid tread with all angles and contacts to resist skidding and give sure traction. Firestone Cord Tires have met these demands of the car owners.

Read Letters Below—

Records from 29,000 to 57,000 Miles

Cord Tires built the Firestone way could not fail to produce mileage. Every day, from all over the country, comes the word that 10,000, 20,000 or 30,000 miles are frequent and consistent records. Now and then they are emphasized by unusual instances such as quoted below. Performances like these demonstrate the ultimate possibilities of Firestone Cords under careful driving.

Sept. 10, 1921

Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.,
Jacksonville Branch,
Jacksonville, Florida.

Gentlemen:—

I submit herewith the history of a 33x4 Firestone Cord tire. This tire has run 57,000 miles. I have retreaded it seven times. The average mileage to each retreading was about 7,000. I think you will agree this is a remarkable record. It is especially unusual as I know the owner to be a severe driver. However, he gives his tires proper inflation. The tire in question is not yet out of service and has every indication of being sufficiently strong for another retread. I am mailing photographs under separate cover.

C. U. Penney,
Plant City, Fla.

Sept. 2, 1921

The Harvey E. Mack Co.,
Thirteenth & Harmon Place,
Minneapolis.

Gentlemen:—

It occurs to me that you might be interested in the mileage that I obtained from the set of Firestone Cord tires on my Dodge coupe. The first tire went over 29,000 miles. The second tire rolled up a mileage of between 34,000 and 35,000. These were both rear tires and had been cut considerably by chains. The two front tires have gone better than 35,000 miles and are still in good condition. I expect to get at least 40,000 miles from each of them. I need scarcely say that the Firestone Cord will be my tire choice for the future.

INTERESTING TEST FOR STOR AGE BATTERY

In a recent test made of storage batteries many interesting features were brought out. Among other tests made the following seems to be the most remarkable.

A six-volt Ray Battery was installed in a coupe, which with three passengers weighed, 3,783 pounds, the gear was set in high and the stating motor circuit was closed. The only motive then was the battery which was working against the motor compression. In this manner the car was driven four-tente of a mile before it cane to a stop. After giving the battery one minute in which to recuperate the starting circuit was again closed and the car was run one-tenth of a mile before stoping. The battery was again given one minute to rest and the car was driven another one-tenth of a mile. In this manned the car was driven in all seven-tenths of a mile after which the battery was torn down and found to be in perfect condition. It was then re-assembled and is now in continous service.

J. W. Anderson, of Accotink, is the agent in this district for this battery, and will take pleasure in giving a similar demonstration to parties who may be interested.

HELP US—WE HELPED YOU

Fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, friends and sweethearts in Alexandria of former United States soldiers, who served their country oversea, do you remember what happened on September 27, 1917. Your hearts were sad on that day. That was the date Company G, First Virgina National Guard, left Alexandria for the training camp in the Southland, where they were to receive instructions in the arts of up-to-date warfare before embarking for military duties in France.

Not only were your hearts sad, but the hearts of one hundred and forty-three enlisted men, commanded by three officers, were also sad.

These lads marched with firm steps and a still firmer resolve to defend the United States of America from the dangers of foreign foes who threatened the peac of the entire world.

After spending many strenuous months in the Southland, they were sent to Hoboken, N. J. They sailed from that place, June 15, 1918. The trip over the Atlantic Ocean was not a pleasant one, for they were packed in close quarters and were liable to be attacked by German submarines at any moment and their bodies thrown into the sea to be devoured by sharks and other hungry fishes of the ocean.

They arrived in France, June 28, 1918. Did they perform their duties well during their stay in France? Seven heroes killed and forty-five heroes wounded is an excellent answer to the question. Every lad proved their worth, and as a military body were decorated for many gallant deeds performed while fighting on the battlefeilds and in the trenches in France.

They left France for America May 10, 1919, and after a most pleasant and safe voyage homebound, arrived in Newport News, Virginia, May 20, 1919. Everybody knows what a grand welcome these heroes received when they arrived in Alexandria, May 28, 1919.

Since their arrival home some of these lads have organized the Alexandria Machine Company, (Company "M," Second Infantry, Virginia National Guard,) and have secured the use of Armory Hall for drill and recreation purpose. Many improvements are necessary to make Armory Hall comfortable, and the members of the company are now giving a Mardi Gras and Feista to obtain money to install a heating plant and make other improvements therein.

Monday evening there will be given a "Hallowe'en masked ball.' Those wearing the most attractive costumes will receive prizes. Every person is invited to try their luck to capture a prize. It does not matter whether you are a fancy dancer, plain dancer, or you can not dance a step. There was once a young man who could only shake one foot when he tried to dance. "Why don't you dance with both feet?" he was asked. One of my feet belongs to church and is not allowed to dance," he answerd. Be like the young man. If you can not dance with your feet—dance with your hands—everything goes Hallowe'en night in the Armory.

There are eighteen handsome booths, a Jazz band, refreshments galore, and numerous entertaining features to make you spend a pleasant evening.

Help the Soldier Boys! They helped you!

Let's see you among the throng in the Armory before the closing night, November 5.

A. L. I.

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Hurry Mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

SPORTS

While Center was trimming Harvard and the Penn State Cyclone was out-blowing the Golden Tornado, Alexandria High was defeating the team of Emerson Institute of Washington, The score was 18 to 0.

Alexandria's back field, after the rearrangement of last week, showed up in fine form. Possibly Jack Pohl, the tackle, who was called upon to do duty in half-back, was a bit nervous when handling the ball, but in no way did his nervousness keep him from plowing through for from two to a dozen yards whenever called upon. When he started he was hard to stop. The first period ended with no score, Midkiff was substituted for Dreifus, and the new quarter back, Captain Pettie started with in striking dstance and Midkiff carrier it over. Pettit missed the goal. In the last half, Fletcher pulled a difficult pass out of the air and raced 40 yards for the second touchdown. Pettit again missed the kick. Aftre the kick-off the teams fought in the center of the field and exchanged several punts until finally in the last few minutes of play Pettit passed the ball and Dyson, left-end, who was standing close to the goal line was hit by it and gracefully fell upon his left ear for the third of the touchdowns. Midkiff hit the cross bar of the goal in attempting to make the extra point.

At no time did Emerson threaten the High School team's goal due to the stability of the line in general and to the ever sure and often spectacular tackling of Hayman, High School's star left tackle.

The second team of the Virginia A. C., defeated the strong team of the Crystal A. C., yesterday afternoon at the Shipyard grounds, by a score of 13 to 0. "Mouse" Briscoe and "Simp" and "Snapper" Poss were the individual stars of the game.

WHEN NERVES ARE UNSTRUNG

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Builds Up Vigor and Strength

There are times when men and women cannot help losing strength. They try to do too much or they lose sleep or do not eat enough food that nourishes. Blood becomes sluggish because poisons clog it. Faces grow pale and pasty looking. It is not long before nerves get unstrung.

The best way to start a change for the better is to take a course of Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It builds the blood. The weakness from lack of red cells in the blood is overcome. Gude's Pepto-Mangan sends a fresh supply of red cells streaming through the blood. Good blood, pure and free from poisons, starts building vigor and strength. Sleep is better, appetite keener, so that the body becomes properly nourished. Druggists have Gude's Pepto-Mangan in both liquid and tablet form. The name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" is on the paskage. Union Services Will Open

The union services which have been held in the Methodist Protestant Church, North Washington street, for the last two weeks, have been so successful that sixty-seven men and women came to the altar and professed conversion, praying to Almighty God for help to lead Christian lives.

Last night was a time of heart searching, when the pastor of the church, Rev. Robert Browne, preached upon our social sins, and mock Christianity, which he paraded in full review before the great audience dnouncing the church member, who uses his church to lend him an air of respectability in the community. At the close of the service seven people came forward to the altar and professed conversion. Several raised their hands for prayer.

These services will continue every evening in Trinity M. E. Church at 7:45. The preacher this evening will be Rev. Thomas B. Shore, M. E. Church, Philadelphia. The combined choirs of both churches will sing. Everybody welcome. Come.

FASHION HAS A NEW VIEWPOINT ON FOOT COMFORT TODAY

It is now modish to be comfortable. Lower, broader heels are everywhere in evidence. Prehaps it is a part of women's newer freedom. Whatever the cause, the result is evident, strong, sound feet are fashionable; relaxed, nervous, distorted feet are no longer thought of with tolerance, let alone style appeal.

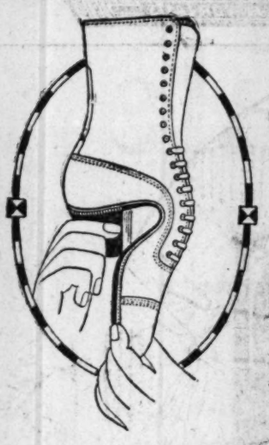
In the genera movement toward foot strength and comfort Cantilever Shoes have taken the lead. The flexible shank, allows the foot free action which strengthens the arch muscles affording supreme comfort.

No rigid metal lies concealed in the arch, (as in the ordinary shoe.)

When you lace a Cantilever Shoe, the flexible shank is drawn up snugly under the arch of your foot, giving restful support.

The arch muscles are free to maintain, or regain, their natural strength by the mere act of exercise. Thus are weak or fallen arches, and other ills avoided or corrected. Cantilever soles follow the natural outline of the foot, plenty of toe room, heels rightly placed, enabling you to walk or stand without fatigue.

The happy woman who loves life, and gets the most out of it, is the woman who wears a properly shaped shoe, which permits natural function of the arch muscles and freedom of the toes, by being wide enough to allow them free action in every step.



From Your Feet Up

The comfort that begins in your feet doesn't stop there. First, it makes your step light and elastic, so that your weight is swung easily from one foot to the other. Then the rythmic play of the muscles produces a delightful glow that brings a lift to your head and a light to your eyes. Graceful free-stepping, you become a living expression of poetry of motion.

But you miss it all if you're wearing uncomfortable shoes. Cramped toes and weak arches do not accord with that buoyant sensation of owning the world. But the Cantilever Shoe frees you from any consciousness of your feet save their perfect ease. Cantilever Shoes have plenty of toe room, a natural inner sole line, and heels rightly placed for proper balance. And a flexible shank which permits the arch muscles to exercise and strengthen, instead of binding the foot rigidly as against a splint, in the manner of ordinary shoes. Thus are fallen arches corrected and prevented by the Cantilever flexible shank. Try on a pair of Cantilevers. See their quality and good style.

Electricity and Leisure

Listen to this:—

A recent conference of housewives was called for a certain Monday afternoon. The attendance overflowed the hall and the first speaker made a point of the fact that had this been a Monday meeting in her mother's day, not a woman would have been there. Monday was washday and Mother had no electric washer to turn out the laundry in a couple of hours!

If every woman would let electricity help with the housework there'd be more leisure for the mothers of today. With electric cleaners, washers, irons and ironing machines; with electric dishwashers and egg beaters and sewing machines, housework can be organized on the same time and labor-saving basis as man's work in office, factory or shop.

Our plan of extended payments on all appliances makes it possible for every home to have electric servants.

Society Organizes

Young Peoples' Union of St. Paul's Church Elect Officers

One of the most interesting organizations of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in this city is the Young People's Society, which meets every Sunday at 6 p. m., and is followed by a light supper. The meeting last night was well attended and a permanent organiztion of the club was effected. Officers elected for a term of 4 months were: President, Frank Cox, of the Theological Seminary, Secretary, Hilda T. Schneider, Treasurer, John Ridout, of the Seminary.

A constitution will be drawn up by the officers and presented at the next meeting. The purpose of the society is furtherance of the ideals of Christianity and of service to the church and community. All people, young in spirit and not necessarily in years of the church, are cordially invited to attend and visitors are always welcome.
